Encourage teamwork, build relationships, engage employees

ENCOURAGE ENGAGEMENT THROUGH

- ✓ Monetary or non-monetary recognition choices
- ✓ Hashtags that emphasize core values for each recognition
- ✓ The ability to broadcast your social feed live via API integration

Celebrating achievements is one thing, but celebrating them with friends is always better. A milestone or achievement isn't quite the same without people around to celebrate it, and that applies to the workplace. Awardco drives employee engagement by providing an interactive social feed where employees can highlight little details, salute each other's great successes with comments and emojis, and get engaged in their own recognition. You're only as good as your people, and your people deserve the best recognition program available to help encourage each other's good work.

“ Culture and engagement is the most important issue companies face around the world. 87 percent of organizations cite culture and engagement as one of their top challenges.”
